

Oracle Academy Partners in Kenya Hold Knowledge-Building Events for Students

It's been a busy time for Oracle Academy partners in Kenya, which held several events to share a passion for programming with students. At the end of March 2019, students from Jomo Kenyatta University of Agriculture and Technology beat 100 students from 18 universities to pick up top awards at the Oracle Academy Student Hackathon 1.0, held at Strathmore University in Nairobi. Competing against other developers, Phillip Oyier, Mercy Jillo, Keith Kinyua Machina, and Kennedy Kamande Wangari won the top spot in various categories of the two-day event, sponsored by iLab Africa, Moringa School, and Oracle Academy. <https://blogs.oracle.com/academy/oracle-academy-partners-in-kenya-hold-knowledge-building-events-for-students>
